

Carol and Dave Legasse in Thailand

Salt, a story of love, flavor and travel

It's a fact, Savannah is a top destination. It's an unforgettable place of discovery with old friends, unequalled for a weekend getaway, best for bridal parties to celebrate, and especially perfect for a romantic escape.

Carol Sellers and Dave Legasse had already discovered Savannah a few years earlier, but it was in 2007 that they discovered each other. They had lots in common, including a yearning to travel!

Soon, they began to seek out new places, cultures, and cuisine. Inspired by the distinct international flavors enhanced with local salts and spices, in 2009 Carol decided to create her own seasoning blend as a holiday gift for their friends. For fun, Dave created a label as if the bottle came from a real company. They named the fake company, The Salt Table. The blend was simply delicious and demands for more continued for months.

Finally, Dave said, "Baby, we've got to start charging for this." And, it began. The fake company became a real company when in 2011 their first Salt Table shop opened in Savannah, along with more than 150 additional Salt Table products, all hand-blended in their own facility. Carol's first product was named, "All 'Round Good Grinder Blend", and it remains their best-selling product.

Soon after the launch, the culinary couple added other local artisan foods and wines. The concept took off! And, so did Carol and Dave. Their travels suddenly took on a professional purpose. And, somehow during all of this, the couple got married.

The couple has since combined their passion for travel with their desire to locate the very best salts and spices. This mission has taken them to Thailand, Canada, Europe, the Caribbean and Central America and their discoveries have influenced the flavors they produce. Today they produce over 250 Salt Table food products, including, salts, seasoning blends, sugars, tea, honey, oils and balsamic vinegars. Other Georgia Grown products include wine, jellies, coffee, sauces, cookies, grits, and even art created by local artisans.

Salt Table products are shipped from Savannah, Georgia, to all 50 states and are also available online. For more information go to www.SaltTable.com or call 912-988-1059.
